Library Notes

Here's wishing that we all have returned refreshed and renewed by this Easter Season. Looking ahead we will be drawing the attention of SBS readers to our hallway display of books newly added to our library collection. At the same time we'd like our community to be more aware of a currently underutilized information resource: our collection of National Geographic's. The May 2017 volume focuses on “What Is Genius?” along with such photographic and pertinent texts on the Moors of Scotland, the Central African Republic and the Flower Vendors of India. Look for the volume on counter display in the library.
